Open Data in The Hague

A Open Data Unit for the city

Outline

Introduction
(the context)

Before the Open Data Unit
(how we started and lessons learned)

The Open Data Unit
(approach, actions and collaborations)

Once upon a time...

Starting from 2011: Open, unless...
Supply-sided way of providing data.

Lessons learned

Open data are just the beginning.

Users are everybody (and nobody!).

We are just one small piece of the puzzle.

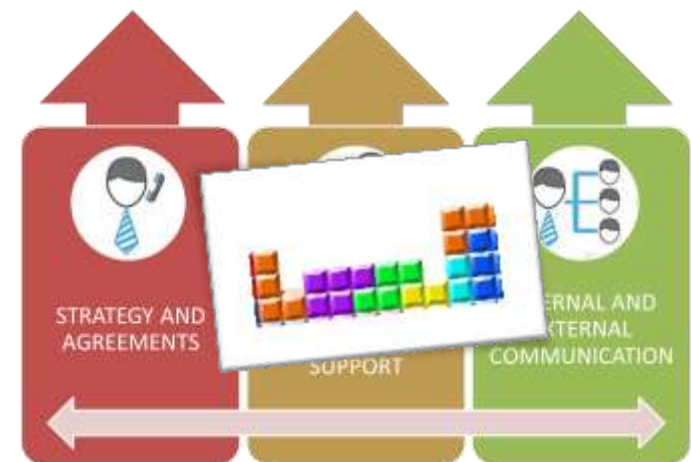

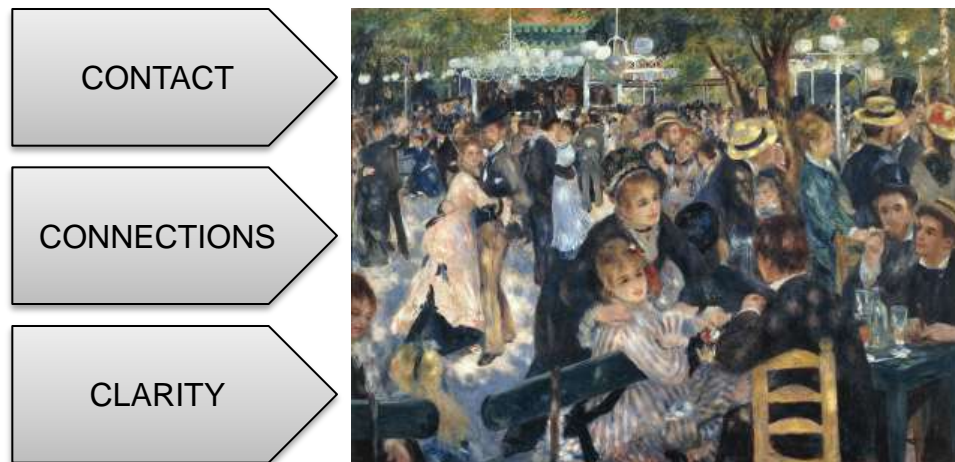

Cooperation is a must.

Open data are “from you-to you”.

The Open Data Unit

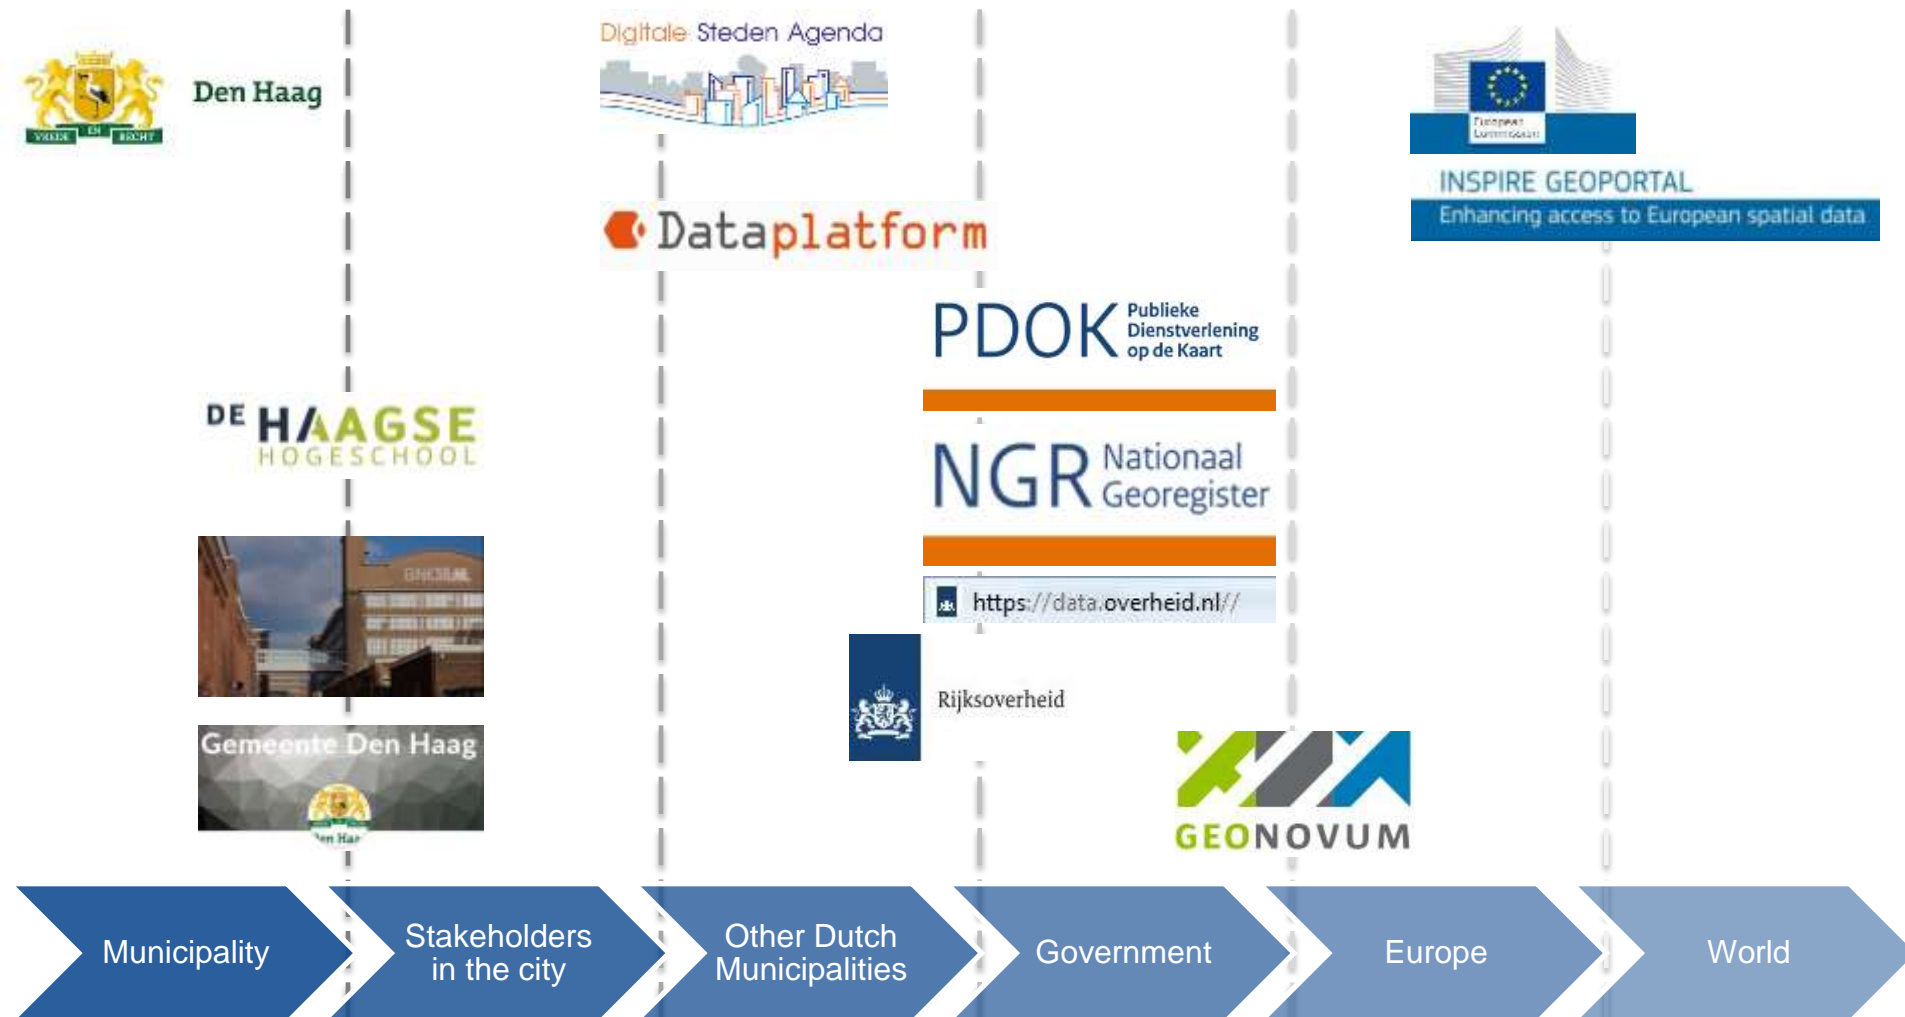

2016: Open by design...
Demand-sided way of providing data.

The Open Data Unit work on a flexible framework for the management and promotion of the open data of the City of The Hague.

The Open Data Unit facilitates projects, brings people together and looks constantly for collaborations in innovative projects with open data.
